Lay Down Your Palms

Lay down your palms upon this ground.
Let loud hosannas cascade 'round.
May peace be hallowed in this hour
in scattered leaves and shattered powers.

*Hosanna, hosanna
Hosanna, Prince of Peace.*

Lift up your palms to break this bread.
Let friendship's wine be freely shared.
Love fill our hearts, though tears be shed
for one betrayed, denied, bereft.

*Hosanna, Hosanna,
We remember, Servant Lord.*

Spread out, these palms, upon the tree
in suffering hope, love's agony.
God's crucified humanity
Deep grace revealed in mystery.

*Hosanna, Hosanna,
Have mercy, Suff'ring One.*

Raised up, these palms, from empty tomb,
to be reborn, as from the womb,
Though wounded, shining with the light of heaven's gift, new earth's delight.

*Hosanna, Hosanna,
Breathe on us, Risen Christ.*

Hold out your palms toward this land with cradled hope in heart and hands to everyone in need of grace and life abundant in this place.

*Hosanna, Hosanna
Walk with us, Spirit Friend.
Alleluia, alleluia,
Alleluia, Amen.*
